Presidential Youth Leadership Initiative (PYLI)

The Presidential Youth Leadership Initiative, a premier program for American and international youth leadership excellence, is a two-week program on world and U.S. politics, international relations, law, business, global economy, and community development.

The Des Moines, Iowa-based Presidential Youth Leadership Initiative (PYLI), established in 2003 by Swallow X. Yan, has partnered with government agencies, businesses, non-profit organizations, and schools including, but not limited to, presidential campaign offices, Bankers Trust, City of Des Moines, Community CPA and Associates, Inc., Dallas County, Des Moines Art Center, Des Moines International Airport, Des Moines Police Department, Des Moines Register, Drake University, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Hy-Line International, Kemin Industries, Iowa Court of Appeal, Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship, Iowa Governor Office, Iowa National Guard, Iowa Secretary of State Office, Iowa State University, U.S. Army, and Wells Fargo, for American and international students to learn and experience U.S. politics, government, law, economy, cultures, education, and community.

The Presidential Youth Leadership Initiative prepares international students to assume active leadership roles in their community and global society. Through PYLI, students embark upon a lifetime of meaningful participation in their local and global communities. Signature academic programs based on the framework of history, culture, geography, environment, economic, education, music, sports, and community provide training and exposure to prepare well-informed leaders and citizens. PYLI strongly emphasizes the connections between local, national, and global conditions, challenges, and opportunities, and best prepares for American and international students for their college, graduate school, and career development.
